Introduction

Of course, everyone asks: What is this? Why are you doing it? (and more...)

What is this? A (growing) site that brings to our collective attention those local charities...Annapolis-based. We hope to have a name, logo, short description, and website address for every organization that wants to be listed.

Why? This is a result of my personal desire to donate a larger percentage of my income to Charity. I know from experience that LOCAL organizations tend to be considerably more effective – we know the people we are serving!
